The Mediterranean - a gift from the sun:
Antalya...

Antalya, one of the most wondrous cities on the Mediterranean: ancient kingdoms, scenic harbours, lacy palms, and charming lanes festooned with citrus trees let you enjoy the marvellous feeling of a Mediterranean city.

Share the delight of residents who revel in waking up each day to bright sunshine where the hues of nature and the wonders of antiquity blend harmoniously in this city.

One of the most important tourism centres of the world, Antalya, with its sea, beaches, sun and history will linger in your memory.

Antalya, founded in the 2nd century BC, is like a unique stage where the mysterious sagas of the Hittite, Lycian, Lydian, Pamphylian, Pergamum, Roman, Byzantine, Selçuk and Ottoman Empires are performed.

Archaeological digs conducted in the Karain Caves, 27 km northwest out of Antalya, are revealing the city's first traces of this incomparable history...

> Magical cities such as Likya and Hitit, Klykia and Pamphily, as well as Side, Perge, Aspendos, Sagalossos, Silyon, Selge, Attaia, Sleukria and, the town of Termessos can be visited for a glimpse of the ancient civilizations that once dwelled in the area.

Bergama King I. Attalos established Antalya in his own vision of heaven within the world. Sometimes called Attelia, Adalia or Adalya, this realised great and ancient dream awaits you.

Aspendos

After passing the city of Serik on the Antalya-Alanya highway and about 17 km from Belek, you will encounter a turn to the north of 4 km, to Aspendos. Built in the 2nd century, the Aspendos can accommodate an audience of up to 17,000 people and is one of the rare theatres that remained intact to the present time, together with its stage.

The secret of the theatre's perfect acoustics, as designed by the young Xenon, remain a mystery. The Selçuks used Aspendos as a caravanserai in the 13th century, and improved the north part of the city with an arch typifying Selçuk architecture.

These days, the Aspendos theatre is still used for concerts, festivals and events, including traditional Turkish oil wrestling. The Agora, Basilica, Nymphaeum, and the arched waterways approximately 15 km away, are well worth a visit.

Perge

Perge was established 18 km from Antalya on the east side, between the Düden and Aksu rivers. On the highway to Alanya, turn north at Aksu city and continue for about 2 km to Perge. It is approximately 22 km from Belek.

Due to its distance from the sea, Perge remained safe from pirate attacks and its development continued unhindered.

Established in 1200 BC, Perge signed a pact with Alexander the Great in 334 AD. Like a similar one with Side, this accord spared Perge from war and potential destruction. Thus, the region continued to thrive throughout the Hellenic, Roman and Byzantine eras.

Built in the 11th century, the Perge theatre has a capacity of around 15,000 people, while the adjacent stadium can accommodate 12,000. The Perge stadium, along with the Aphrodisas stadium in the Aegean region, is considered among the best-built stadiums of that era. Under the tiered stadium seating are 30 rooms which were thought to be used as shops.

In the last years, numerous statues and works of art have been excavated. The city gates, the Agora, Nymphaeum, the pillared streets, sarcophagi, Basilica and Acropolis of Perge are all notable sites.

Sillion

On the northeast side of Perge and 12 km from the sea, Sillion is built in the middle of a plain on a high, flat hill. It lies at the end of a 13km-long gravel road at the 29th km of the Antalya-Alanya highway going north. Sillion is approximately 15 km from Belek.

It is believed that the city was established following the Trojan War.

Sillion was the centre of the episcopacy in both the Byzantine and Selçuk periods.

The west of the gently sloping hill is surrounded by walls from the Hellenistic era and the tower, doors and streets leading up to the city complete these walls.

A climb up the hill offers views of the ruins of houses and streets, the Selçuk mosque, a Byzantine Church and the cistern on the northwest

On the southwest skirt of the hill, you will find a theatre for 8,000 people and, next to it, the Odeon.

Kurşunlu Waterfalls

East of the centre of Antalya and on the way to Alanya, turn at the 24th km to Isparta. After 7 km you will arrive at the Kurşunlu Waterfalls.

These waterfalls, set in a deep green fairytale-like valley, are among the most-visited natural wonders in the area. The entire site can be toured on foot in around 30 minutes. In addition, several varieties of fish live in the water, and rich vegetation blankets the area. The Düden Waterfalls and the Manavgat Waterfalls are also well-known, and often used for location shots in Turkish films.

Köprülü Canyon

Köprüçay river, born in the Taurus Mountains, passes through canyons that are nature's wonders and pours into the Mediterranean south of the Serik. Fed by the underground streams in the steep-sided canyons, the Köprüçay river is one of the most beautiful sites in Turkey.

In addition to the canyon, you can find the city of Selge (Zerk) in this mountainous terrain, with castles on the river banks, along with aqueducts and bridges from the Roman era, as well as archaeological treasures such as the historical streets.

Selge

The mountain city of Selge, just next to the Köprüçay river, can be reached after the "Köprülü Canyon Milli Park" via a steep, curvy, ancient 14km-long road. It is believed that Selge was founded by the prophet Kalehes. The region belonging to Pisidia was later included within the border of Pamphylia. Over time, the city was under the control of the Lydian, Persian, Alexandrian and Roman states. The remains of the city include a theatre in the cliffs; on the south side, you can find a stadium and a gymnasium, while on the west lies an ornate, Ionic-style temple with an eagle motif. There is a foundation and an Agora on the south part of the stadium. In the southwest, by the extending walls, you can find the monuments of Artemis and Zeus located in a necropolis in the north.

A TOURISM FOUNDATION: BETUYAB

Belek, known as a unique destination with the creative tourism opportunities it offers today, was a reedy marshland 30 years ago with natural beauties that could not be shared with humans.

BETUYAB (Belek Tourism Investors Joint Venture) was established in 1989, and goes beyond being a mere company. With the significant studies conducted by BETUAB, the organisation has carried first Belek, and then its own brand value, to their respectable statuses. Forty-seven 5-star hotels and resorts with a more than 50,000-bed capacity, 15 world standard golf courses in 10 golf clubs, the sea, the beach and the sun, along with superior quality standards and incomparable geography are the results of this hard work.

In addition to offering distinctive holidays, Belek hosts sports, arts, congresses, festivals and a range of cultural events and organizations. With 50 football courts, more than 200 tennis courts, and 204 international standard conference halls, Belek's reputation as a world-class destination stands strong.

Belek is managed in accordance with a philosophy of conscious happiness, and thus it could not be indifferent to health and beauty. The Thalasso therapies using the sea water offered in Belek's hotels, and the health and beauty centres in Belek have gained global interest in a very short time,

Today Belek is a tourism area known worldwide and BETUYAB directs energy towards maintaining Belek's environment and distinction for the longer term, for future generations. It evaluates each and every project pertaining to the infrastructure, environment, presentation and sustainable quality with the "project - use" philosophy.

As the first and most successful example of public-private partnership in tourism, BETUYAB advances a model for other tourism centres and associations with the studies it has carried out for Belek.

A summary of Anatolia in the language of the Mediterranean
“The Garden of Tolerance”

Belek is a rich and unique destination in a sociological aspect, in addition to being a destination of natural beauty. A significant example is the “Garden of Tolerance”, established for visitors of different faiths.

The holy places of the world’s predominant religions have always found hospitality in the Mediterranean region. Each year, thousands of visitors come to these holy places and depart with smiles.

Opened in 2004, the Garden of Tolerance has evolved into a place where the three Abrahamic religions join in prayer. This place, designed and created by BETUYAB, highlights the Anatolian identity where different religions meet. With help and inspiration from the Ministry of Culture and Tourism and the Ministry of Religious Affairs, this project was brought to life and is a collective work of the beliefs and views of representatives of all Abrahamic religions.

> The pond and the water on the outside represent the source of life and pure innocence in the creation of humanity.

The directions of the three peacocks are located towards the Western Wall, the west and Kaabe, therefore representing the Jewish, Christian and the Islamic worlds.

Many works of art covered with symbols and stories in the Garden of Tolerance fill thousands of hearts with peace, love and tolerance.

JUST CHANGED
THE GAMES.

Belek, where history and the natural colours of the Mediterranean blend harmoniously, is a rare tourism paradise that places its memories in visitors' hearts. The perfect match between flora of a hundred shades of green and blue heavens, Belek is not just a holiday maker place, but a beautiful slice of the Mediterranean. Belek, just 20 minutes by car from Antalya, offers a 17km-long beach where carefully designed 5-star hotels reflect the sunlight and natural beauty.

In harmony with nature, Belek's creative architectural projects enable a holistic experience of sea, sun and beach, allowing you to enjoy your holidays with a range of exciting activities.

Belek is known worldwide for its superior, specially designed golf courses; many of these courses were designed by world-famous figures in the field.

Offering both the rich heritage of ancient civilizations and the natural habitat of the Mediterranean, Belek is, indeed, a rare jewel.

➤ Scientific botanical studies reveal that 574 plant species were found in Belek, 29 of which are unique to Turkey. The Pyrus Serikensis is found only in Belek.

Belek is the most important nesting area in the Mediterranean for the Caretta Carettas sea turtles. The rich fauna in Belek comprises more than 38 mammal variations, over 100 species of birds, and 30 reptile species.

How many holidays leave a beautiful sound in your mind?

The Birds' Paradise

Today the understanding of a holiday is changing. But even with the elevated demand for living different experiences on one's holiday, nature is increasingly finding its place in each holiday option.

Rapid urbanization and environmental pollution has driven humans to an even greater consideration for mental and physical health during vacations. With its living fauna, wide variety of vegetation and animal species, and an ideal climate, Belek's stature among similarly rare destinations is rising.

Belek is a pure miracle of eco-tourism with its natural features and modern facilities. The habitats provided by golf courses to nature and animals, and the sensitivity of BETUYAB and the local administrations leave our guests with a strong sense of untrammelled nature and its exuberant chorus.

Belek provides an optimal research area for the science of ornithology (bird watching), as many birds spend the winter here and also reproduce.

BETUYAB is natural supporter of all examinations and classifications of bird species. You may find yourself becoming serene as you listen to the joyousness reflected in the sweet sounds of nature...

How many holidays can touch your heart with a scent?

Belek Flora

In European general flora, there are 12,000 plant species. In our country, this number is 9,500.

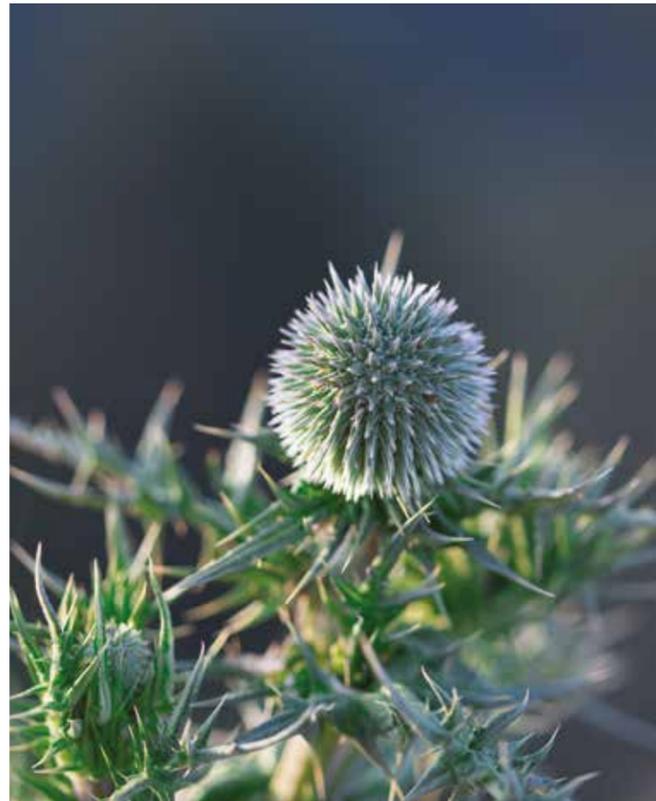

This gratifying ratio increases when endemic plants are considered. Endemic plants are plants that grow naturally and solely in specific areas worldwide

Their ecological and physiological behaviours are mostly unique, and this transforms Belek into a biological heritage that belongs to all humanity.

From 600 endemic plants (solely growing in specific areas worldwide) in the Mediterranean Area, 500 variants exist in the environment of Antalya. Botanical studies reveal that more than 118 valuable plants can be found in Belek. And 200 variants exist solely in Antalya.

BETUYAB's studies on global tourism trends indicate the role that environmental awareness plays on consumers' choices and the importance of a tourism approach that respects the environment.

To further express its awareness, BETUYAB prepared the "Belek Coast Plan" together with the World Bank's Wildlife Conservation Society and relevant public institutions; and consistently demonstrates an approach that respects nature while continuing to safeguard this precious heritage.

A diver in a white wetsuit and blue fins is swimming underwater, reaching out towards a large sea turtle. The water is clear and blue, with sunlight filtering through from above. The turtle is swimming towards the diver, its head and front flippers visible. The overall scene is peaceful and captures a moment of interaction between a human and a marine animal.

Thousands of years in paradise... with the same house on its back.

Caretta Caretta

One of the ancient world's most treasured gifts is the Caretta Carettas. Inspiring humanity, these delightful sea turtles are dispersed throughout the Mediterranean coast. The most important nesting areas are Belek, Adana, Anamur, Köyceğiz and Dalyan Beach. The Belek coast is the largest nesting area in the Mediterranean. Around 2,500 nests were found and taken under protection in 2016. The turtles' shells can grow to up to 1 m. They feed on fish, crustaceans and other water creatures, especially jellyfish.

It is believed that these turtles have existed for around 106 million years.

Due to intensive residential and light pollution on the beaches today, the Caretta Carettas' numbers have gradually declined. With their silent character, the Caretta Carettas bestow upon human watchers a feeling of peace. The turtles' living area is a miraculous paradise; they are happy in Belek.

A golfer in silhouette is captured mid-swing on a green, set against a vibrant sunset sky. The sun is low on the horizon, reflecting on a body of water in the background. The golfer is wearing a light blue polo shirt and light-colored trousers. The overall scene is peaceful and scenic.
